

The President Says

The President should not in any way interfere with or influence the students in their choice of officers for the year, but he does wish to comment on the quality of all the nominees. No matter who is elected, the students may rest assured that they are putting into practice the policy of naming for public office capable representatives who will reflect credit on their constituents.

Staff Says Tower Which Has Gone to Press Is Different

More Pictures Are Used; Write-ups Are Planned More Carefully.

Book's Keynote Is Action

Business Manager Promises Tower Will Be Distributed After Middle of May.

The pictures are taken! The copy is written! The 1941 Tower has gone to press! Dan Emerson, the editor; Harvey Davis, the business manager; and Mr. Roy Ferguson, the faculty adviser, went to Kansas City today with all the copy for the annual publication which the Tower Staff describes largely in superlatives.

Copy for this year's Tower is much more complete than for any one published previously. According to the Tower Staff, there is at least one-half again as much written copy as has ever before been used.

The style in which the material for this year's Tower is written is also distinctive and simulates newspaper style. Write-ups are narrative in character. Statistical information is largely eliminated. The write-ups adhere to actual facts and accomplishments rather than to abstractions and loosely defined objectives.

An attempt has been made, and the Staff feels it has been a successful one, to portray the fact that all who are in school are ultimately to become teachers. The publication will present a study of the work of the classroom, library, and laboratory (including the Horace Mann laboratory school) in training college men and women to become teachers.

To fulfill this aim, and contrary to former procedure, all pictures included are to be of the contents of the buildings and of the campus rather than of the buildings and the campus. No scene has been made for the Tower except as a background for human activity. According to the Staff there have been more actual photos made this year than ever before.

Acting on the psychological premise that all people like to see pictures of themselves and their friends, there are more and larger group shots to be in the 1941 Tower than have ever before been used. Many of these have been taken of important events in process during the school year. Others have been posed to fit situations that have taken place at times when conditions were not favorable for photography.

Another revolutionary feature of the new Tower is in the way in which portraits and pictures are used. Formal portraits are used only in class groups. Organization pictures are produced in groups forming an entirely different picture of the same person each time that person's likeness appears. The work of the organizations is done in groups, says the Staff, and so their pictures are taken as groups.

Placement of copy will also be most unusual for this Campus's annual. Newspaper column style will be used. Captions under each picture will identify that particular photo although copy on that particular (Continued on page 3)

"Y" Groups Present One Act Play; Plan Election

As the "Y" groups found it impossible to visit Park College at Parkville, Missouri, this week as planned, the program which was to have been presented there was given at the regular meeting on Thursday, April 17.

A one-act play, "The Color Line," directed by Jesse Lundy, was presented. Those in the cast were Annette Crowe, Paul Smith, Kinzel Coulson, Ruth Pfander, Hazel Karrier, and Leroy Briggs. The play dealt with race prejudice.

The rest of the program was given by the Fine Arts Commission, Emily Gillette is chairman of this commission.

At the meeting on Thursday evening, April 24, the election of officers of the YMCA and of the YWCA will be held. The representative to the state council will also be chosen.

Dr. Dow Will Attend A. A. U. P. Conference

Young-McCaffrey Campaign Manager Outlines Platform

Candidates Will Work to Improve Student-Faculty Relationships.

As campaign manager for Ted Young and Mary Margaret McCaffrey, nominees for president and vice-president, respectively, of the Student Government Association, Franklin Bithous outlines a part of their platform as follows: Both stand for anything that will benefit the student body. They see the need of and will work for better relations between the students and members of the faculty.

One improvement that they propose is an inter-student communication system which would do much to eliminate the importance of the bulletin board and, by saving time and trouble, would be a convenience to the students and faculty.

Mr. Young and Miss McCaffrey feel that they could effect some improvements in the Student Center. Among these would be regulations by which the ping-pong tables would be for use by the women as well as the men students, adequate lighting in the dancing room, thereby making the room more suitable for dancing, so that the nickelodeon will produce profits which would be used to buy furniture, lamps, and other facilities for the Student Center. These improvements would do much to make the center an attractive, enjoyable place for the students to spend leisure moments.

Because of their wide experience in executive positions in various organizations and student affairs, Mr. Young and Miss McCaffrey are certain that they have the qualifications and the ability to give efficient service to the student body as a whole.

Candidates for Student Offices Are Nominated

Election Will Be Held Next Week; Campaign Arouses Interest.

Considerable zest and rivalry marked the special assembly, Thursday at 10:15 p. m., as being quite a spirited nomination period. This assembly, held annually for the nomination of the President and the Vice-President of the student body, resulted in the selection of four people.

Wallace Oursler was nominated for president by Vaughn Means, campaign manager for the Independents. Franklin Ewing and Edwin Patton made speeches to second the nomination of Mr. Oursler.

Ted Young was nominated for the presidency by his campaign manager, Franklin Bithous. Approval of Mr. Young's candidacy was voted by Don Johnson.

The only women candidate, Mary Frances McCaffrey, was nominated for vice-president by Dodley Weems. Joe Kuntzright seconded and approved the candidacy of Miss McCaffrey.

Wesley McClaren, another choice of the Independents, was nominated for vice-president by Byron Stevenson. Herschel Bryant and Marlon Moyes seconded and approved the selection with short speeches.

These four candidates are quite representative of the student body it is believed. All of them rank high in social and academic accomplishments. Election day, April 23, will reveal which two will serve in these important offices for next year.

The student body evinced considerable interest in the nominations. The students believe, according to opinions expressed by many, that their participation as voters, committee members, campaign assistants, and campaign managers in this election is good training, both politically and socially. Their intimacy with this smaller election will, they thought, make clearer to them the policies connected with the selection of personnel for governing our Democracy.

Miss Kathryn Helwig went with a group of Maryville people to Tarkio the afternoon of April 10 to attend a district meeting of Baptist Sunday School Workers.

Mr. King Sends Out Sections of Course of Study

College Instructors Have Assisted in Planning Curriculum.

From the office of the Honorable Lloyd W. King, State Superintendent of Public Schools, there have been issued four divisions of the new course of study for secondary schools. Part of a project entitled "Missouri at Work on the Public School Curriculum, these four bulletins give the work done thus far in General English, Industrial Arts, Mathematics, and Home Economics.

Mr. E. E. Seubert of the English department of the College served on the general planning committee, which was under the chairmanship of Dr. Ralph K. Watkins, professor of Education at the University of Missouri.

On each of the committees which worked out the sections of the course of study now published were members of the faculty of the College. Mr. Norvel Saylor of the department of Mathematics served as chairman for the central committee on Mathematics. Mr. Seubert, who was, at the time he was working on the committee, a teacher of English in the Maplewood - Richmond Heights Senior High School, Maplewood, served on the central committee in Language Arts, which committee has brought out the section on English. Miss Hazel Burns, whose place in the English department Mr. Seubert took when she resigned, also served on the committee.

On the central committee in Practical Arts, Mr. R. T. Wright of the department of Agriculture, served. Mr. Donald N. Valk of the Industrial Arts department was on the production committee in Industrial Arts which has brought out the handbook for industrial arts in secondary schools. Miss Hettie M. Anthony of the Home Economics department served on the production committee in Home Economics which has produced the course of study for the high school home economics program.

This sonata mirrors that life. The opening movement contains two typical Mozart tunes. The first is a sparkling tune full of unbounded but refined gaiety and the second affords a lyrical contrast. The two are woven into a tapestry of crystal clear sound.

In the second movement which is outstanding for its sheer beauty of melodic line, Mozart uses a suggestion of the Crusader's hymn. The third movement is a saucy rondo. The opening tune becomes an old friend by coming back to us several times after acquaintance with the other tunes.

The first movement of this sonata immediately instills in us the strength and vigor of the Northland. In direct contrast is the second movement which with its lyric quality becomes thoughtful. The third movement with its clear interlacing of violin and piano melody suggests the illusive of sprites at play. The whole is brought to a dramatic close leaving us with the intensity of the Northern Spirit ringing in our ears.

III. Sonata in A Major.....Franck Allegretto Ben Moderato Allegretto Poco Mosso

Cesar Franck was a 19th century organist in Paris. Like Bach he expressed the sublimity of his religious faith in his music. This only violin and piano sonata in four movements would be enough to establish both his musical greatness and his personal greatness.

The first and last movements which are being performed on this program show respectively a contemplative attitude and a deeply pious feeling. The latter is heightened by the fact that the tune is tossed back and forth between the piano and violin.

The first movement of this sonata immediately instills in us the strength and vigor of the Northland. In direct contrast is the second movement which with its lyric quality becomes thoughtful. The third movement with its clear interlacing of violin and piano melody suggests the illusive of sprites at play. The whole is brought to a dramatic close leaving us with the intensity of the Northern Spirit ringing in our ears.

A Fahnestock, a 38 calibre Swedish make gun owned by Bill Wright of Tarkio is a part of the exhibit. It is a cap and ball rifle with a set trigger and a cherry wood stock. This gun has passed through several hands and came to Mr. Wright from Montana.

Instructors Will Present Sonata Recital Tuesday

Selections from Grieg, Mozart, and Franck Are Included on Program.

Miss Janet Leeder, pianist, and Miss Jacinta Kampmeier, violinist, will present a sonata recital in the Horace Mann Auditorium, Tuesday, April 21, at 8:15 p. m.

The program will include the following:

I. Sonata No. 10 in B Flat Major. Mozart Allegro Moderato Andantino Sostenuto e Cantabile Allegro

Mozart was an Austrian contemporary of George Washington. As a child prodigy, he was exploited in the court circles of Europe, so it was only natural that one phase of his music should reflect the light hearted and impersonal attitude of that elegant, highly polished society.

This sonata mirrors that life. The opening movement contains two typical Mozart tunes. The first is a sparkling tune full of unbounded but refined gaiety and the second affords a lyrical contrast. The two are woven into a tapestry of crystal clear sound.

In the second movement which is outstanding for its sheer beauty of melodic line, Mozart uses a suggestion of the Crusader's hymn. The third movement is a saucy rondo. The opening tune becomes an old friend by coming back to us several times after acquaintance with the other tunes.

II. Sonata in C Minor.....Grieg Allegro Molto ed Appassionato Allegretto Espressivo Alla Romanza Grieg Animato

Grieg came from Norway, a country famed for the grandeur of its rugged mountains, its cruel fjords, bitter cold, and indomitable energetic people. Being a true Norwegian, he was imbued with the spirit of its crystal clear streams, the peace of its gently undulating valleys, the calm of its vast forests and the legends of the fairy folk who inhabited them. A great patriot he endeavored to mirror his country in his music.

The first movement of this sonata immediately instills in us the strength and vigor of the Northland. In direct contrast is the second movement which with its lyric quality becomes thoughtful. The third movement with its clear interlacing of violin and piano melody suggests the illusive of sprites at play. The whole is brought to a dramatic close leaving us with the intensity of the Northern Spirit ringing in our ears.

III. Sonata in A Major.....Franck Allegretto Ben Moderato Allegretto Poco Mosso

Cesar Franck was a 19th century organist in Paris. Like Bach he expressed the sublimity of his religious faith in his music. This only violin and piano sonata in four movements would be enough to establish both his musical greatness and his personal greatness.

Valuable Fossil Collection Is Proud Possession of College

Dr. Blumenthal Tells Forum of War Horrors

Dr. Albert Blumenthal, a member of the Social Science department of the College, addressed the Forum Club at its meeting Monday noon. His topic was "War and the Family." Dr. Blumenthal stated that while the general effects of war are devastating, the effects on the individual are far worse. Families are broken up and shell ruins many lives. Too many have lost faith in ideals and become easy prey to manias. "Most of the great joys and burdens of life are family affairs, even the burden of war," he said.

Drake University Band Appears on Assembly Program

Eighty-five Piece Band Comes Here on Annual Spring Concert Tour.

Commenting very favorably on the College here, the Drake University Concert Band left the campus at noon Wednesday. The band was here to present an hour's concert at the regular assembly.

Mr. Gordon Bird, director of the 85 piece band, who has been director of the annual spring tour for the last five years, told a reporter for the Missourian that they had found the newly redecorated auditorium a lovely place in which to play. The students were very attentive, and a very fine atmosphere prevailed during the concert, he stated.

The Drake University Concert Band is made up of a group selected from both the men's and women's bands at the University. Musicians Trained by Alumnus Receive Honors

Ray Dull, a graduate of the College with the class of 1934, has been very successful in organizing music ensembles and training those of musical talent at St. James during the past year, according to a newspaper report from St. James.

Of the seventeen entries Mr. Dull had in the District Music Festival held at Rolla this month, thirteen received honor ratings of excellent and superior. Eleven of these were the highest ratings given.

Miss Stone is at Home
Miss Opal Stone, a graduate of the College in the class of 1928, is with her parents now on a farm near Eagleville, where she will stay until the first of September. She is on leave of absence from the University of Southern California, where she is a teacher. She has not been well and is at home for a rest.

Attends Registrars' Meeting
Mr. R. E. Baldwin is absent from his duties as Registrar of the College this week in order to attend a meeting of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars being held in Chicago from April 17 to 19.

Dr. Edwin Colbert Sends Remains of Prehistoric Animals Here.

Horses and Brontosaurus

Specimens Collected From Many Places Are Included in College Collection.

A valuable collection of prehistoric fossil remains from the American Museum of Natural History has recently come into the possession of the College. It was announced today by Dr. Carol Y. Mason of the Geography department. It was brought to the college through the offices of Dr. Edwin H. Colbert.

Dr. Colbert, son of Mr. George H. Colbert of the Mathematics department, is well known to college people. He was a student in the training school and again of the College. One of the specimens in the collection is a section of a digit of the Brontosaurus, found in Wyoming. It is in three sections, which if placed together measure about a foot long. The section corresponds to about half a human finger, and the proportion shows the size of the prehistoric animal.

Another specimen is a fragment of a Dinosaur egg, found by Roy Chapman Andrews in Mongolia. It is considered valuable in that it clears up some of the mystery about the dinosaur. The collection also includes a Rhinoceros jawbone found in Wyoming.

Perhaps the most valuable part of the collection is that of a series of specimens from prehistoric horses—a special interest of Dr. Colbert. The series includes the jawbone and teeth of the Eohippus, the smallest of the prehistoric horse; the teeth of the Mesolippus, slightly larger; the teeth of the Hippiparus, the third in size; and a foot bone and three toes of the Merychippus, the next in size.

The collection will soon be ready to be placed on exhibition. It should attract much attention, for it is unusual for a college of this size to possess such a collection.

Party Announces Platform Based on Candidates' Merit

Independents Would Stimulate Student Participation.

The Independent Party stands united upon the ability and merit of its candidates. Wallace Oursler for president and Wesley McClaren for vice-president of the Student Government Association.

We stand for intensifying student affairs and democratic participation therein; development of the Student Center to its fullest possibilities; and fomenting the means for creating greater school spirit and fellowship. Further comment is unnecessary as the record of the candidate speaks for itself. "The greatest opportunity for the greatest number."

The Rickenbrodes Are Home From Trip South

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rickenbrode returned Saturday from a Southern trip and Mr. Rickenbrode is again at work in his usual office. He now wears the title of "bursar," which title was given him at the last meeting of the Board of Regents.

The Rickenbrodes left Maryville on January 19, going first to Excelsior Springs and later going on to New Orleans. From New Orleans they followed the coastline to and in Florida. Mr. Rickenbrode said he went as far south as he could go in the United States, to Key West, Florida.

Though Mr. Rickenbrode seems to think he has passed the age for going to the circus, he says he did enjoy seeing Ringling Brothers' circus in its winter quarters at Sarasota, Florida. He says there is an excellent beach at this place.

En route to Maryville, Mr. and Mrs. Rickenbrode made many stops. Mr. Rickenbrode said he especially enjoyed their visit to Mammoth Cave. He says the trip to the Cave is too big for one day, however, and advises at least two days for it.

Householders Are to Meet
The Householders Association will meet next Monday night in the Student Center. Plans are being made for the revision of the Association's constitution. The Varsity Villagers will serve refreshments in buffet style. Fern Randall is general chairman of the committee in charge.

From the Dean

There is something in serving boys and girls as their teacher other than the pay check at the end of the month.

There is something in the way some people characterize the teaching profession that helps make the service worth while.

That something is revealed in the movie "Cheers for Miss Bishop." It should be seen by every teacher and prospective teacher as well as by all those interested in our schools and colleges.

My hope for all those interested in teacher education is that the achievement of the teacher in "Cheers for Miss Bishop" will be considered as one goal for their personal service in the profession — a goal which can be reached.

Quotable Quotes

"Gossip is a sort of smoke that comes from the dirty tobacco pipes of those who diffuse it; it proves nothing, but the bad taste of the smoker." —George Elliot.

"The American college has demonstrated both its vitality and its usefulness, but to maintain it and to extend that usefulness to the world of today and tomorrow, the college must think harder and think straighter about its job than it has thought up to the present."

Wherever a dictator has arisen, there education has suffered. The desire for knowledge, the spirit of inquiry which is the God-given right of a free people, has been stifled and the training of the young has been confined to the trades and the most elementary general subjects. This must not happen in America." Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio.

- Elections shall be held continuously between the hours of 8:00 a. m. and 4:00 p. m. of a single day, and in a room equipped with voting booths and provided by the Faculty Election Supervisor and the Senate.
- The actual voting shall be under the conduct of judges and clerks, at least two of each, who have been designated by the Faculty Election Supervisor on the basis of their knowledge or experience, or both, in governmental matters, the Senate cooperating with the Supervisor to the end that the result be a widespread, and correct expression of student opinion.
- Every student, excepting only students of the Short Course, whose name is found on the up-to-date official list arranged by classes and furnished in duplicate by the Registrar of the College, shall, upon presentation of his or her signed activity ticket at the polls, be permitted to vote by the principle of the "single ballot."
- No unusual noise, boisterous conduct or lobbying shall be allowed within fifty feet of the polls. It is the privilege, if not the solemn duty, of every Faculty member, of every member of the Student Government Association and especially of the officials of the latter, to aid in making such referendum models of governmental procedure righteously expected of those who aspire to teach future citizens.
- Blank ballots with names of candidates arranged alphabetically thereon, the ballots themselves being numbered consecutively, and a ballot box equipped with an effective lock shall be provided by the Senate. The voter at the polls shall receive one ballot from one of the judges, proceed at once to the election booth, there alone prepare the ballot, and immediately deliver it to the receiving judge who shall deposit it in the ballot-box which, throughout the polling hours and the counting of the ballots thereafter, shall be in the secure custody of the judges, the Faculty Election Supervisor cooperating. Two clerks, each with a separate official student list, shall keep duplicate records of the voting by placing opposite the name of each voter, as called by the receiving judge, the same number carried by that ballot.
- The judges shall immediately after the polls have closed count the ballots and report the results to the Senate with whom they will intrust the old ballots.

The Stroller...

The Stroller sometimes mixes up his words and says what he does not mean and so he has a good deal of sympathy when Dr. Blumenthal, trying to say "I'm perfectly serious about this," hears himself say, "I'm perfectly silly about this."

Being late to class is not much fun unless one belongs to Mr. Phillips's eight o'clock class. That does not mean that the Stroller thinks Mr. Phillips is easy on late-comers, but Mr Phillips says, "Oh, well, by and large, one cannot be too hard on the tardies when they cannot tell time by the clock in the hall."

"Flunked out stop prepare papa" read a telegram that purported to be from a College sophomore to his brother at home—but the Stroller has vague recollections of having run across a similar one when he was in high school. The brother telegraphed back at once: "Father prepared prepare yourself."

The Stroller had a terrible time finding any gossip this week. To quote Ralph Remy, "What happened before Easter vacation is a blank and nothing has happened since." However, the Stroller did hear of two more diamonds that were received by Maryville co-eds—Sarah Thompson and Lucille Allen. And he noticed that Larry Weed's first pin has come back from Leavenworth, to repose on the breast of a Maryville girl: C. F. Lyndon has "hung" his, too. Oh, well, "In the spring a young man's fancy . . ." but a freshman composition student who has been reading Locksley Hall says she cannot get too excited about spring romances.

If the Stroller has no nerves at all this week it is because he was behind Virgil Blackwelder at the library one night when Blackwelder, as usual, was looking for Barbara Kowitz. Excited at hearing where he could find her, he dashed off at such speed that he dropped his books—flat, with a bang such as only flat books can make. The Stroller is still gasping.

The Stroller wishes he were bright, but he just never can see a joke till the next day. When Leland Hamilton came into the office and found the Stroller sweating over his column, he said to Leland, "Tell me a good joke."

"What do you mean, joke? Something like what happened to the monkey that sat on a fruit-cake?" asked Leland.

"What did happen?" said the Stroller meekly, for he just could not see why a monkey would sit on a fruit-cake.

"Why, a currant ran up his tail," said Leland.

Then when the Stroller wondered if the monkey began "raaaaah a howl," Leland simply crushed him with "A pun is the lowest form of wit."

Whereupon the editor said, "A pun my word! Stop this monkey-business and get that column done!"

Being short on stuff, the Stroller filches from another column, and presents, with apologies to the author whose lines the contributor has brought in under a new title.

Faculty Members Announce Varied Plans for Summer

Mr. Geiger Leaves for Year in Army; Twelve Have Summer Leaves.

Several members of the faculty have been granted leaves of absence from their duties here for the summer. Their plans include such varying activities as study, travel, and teaching at different schools.

Dr. Carol Mason plans to teach at the Buffalo State Teachers' College after a trip through southern Missouri, and the South. Leaving here May 31, she will visit until July 1, when she will take up her teaching duties. Each year the Buffalo college invites two professors from other schools to be guest professors for the summer. Dr. Mason will teach the geography of Europe, and conservation of our natural resources. She plans to return to Maryville during the last of August, in time for the opening of the fall quarter.

Mr. Ryland Milner, football coach, will spend the summer at Louisiana State University where he will finish work on his master's degree in Physical Education.

Among our faculty members who have been granted a leave of absence beginning this summer is Mr. John W. Geiger, who has been instrumental instructor at the College for the past three years. Mr. Geiger is taking his leave with the familiar phrase, "I'm in the army now," and will be gone for an entire year.

Mr. Geiger has had previous military experience. He was Warrant Officer for the 140th Field Artillery, Indiana National Guard Band stationed at Muncie, Indiana, for four years. During this time his band was reviewed by General Pershing at Camp Knox, Louisville, Kentucky. He has been recreational supervisor for the C. C. C. camps in Northern Indiana for three years. Mr. Geiger expects to continue his military service at Fort Benjamin Harrison at Indianapolis, Indiana, or at Camp Knox in Louisville, Kentucky.

Miss Carrie Hopkins will probably spend some time traveling in the western as well as in the eastern part of the country.

Miss Mary Fisher of the Industrial Arts Department plans to study at the University of Southern California during the summer session. In the time between summer school and the opening of school here again in the fall, Miss Fisher plans to visit many points of interest in the Southwest. She will also be able to visit two sisters while in California.

Freshman Class Will "Warm Barn" Tonight

Tonight the Freshman class will hold an old-fashioned "Barnwarming" in the Old West Library. This is the first and only social function of the class, and a large majority of the Freshmen are expected to attend.

Jack Smith, in charge of decorations, has arranged for the Old West Library to be changed into a barn—complete with bales of hay, fodder, and wagon wheels. As the students enter the door, they will slide down a chute into a pile of hay.

Ruth McPherson, chairman of the program committee, has charge of the old-fashioned "mellodrammer" which will be a part of the program. The title of this stirring drama is "Wild Nell, The Pet of the Plains" featuring: Dodley Weems as Wild Nell.

The College Dance Band will furnish music for dancing in the West Library. There will be games in the Student Center for those who do not care to dance.

The invited chaperones are Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Kleinpell, Miss Dorothy Truex and guest, and Miss Day Weems and guest.

The invited guests are Miss Marjorie L. Lippitt, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Schuster, Miss Inez Lewis, Miss Winifred Ann Carruth, and President and Mrs. Uel W. Lamkin.

Plans for the Barnwarming were made under the direction of the officers of the class: Bill Ellis, Mary Margaret Tilton, Emmert Lawson, and Barbara Kowitz, and the Social Committee composed of Helen Adams, Dodley Weems, Betty Bower, and Dudley Johnson. The chairmen of the committees are Betty Drennan, refreshments; Jack Smith, decorations; and Ruth McPherson, program.

The program is tentatively as follows:

"Highlights of the Warrensburg Conference"—Leason Wilson.

"A Proposed League of Nations for the West"—Lois Langland.

"Fascist Penetration in South America"—John Dunlap.

A Dramatic Ouplet entitled "Natzlman."

"Japanese Strategy in the Far East"—Dorothy Matter.

"Democracy in Crisis"—Vaughn Means.

Fire Eating Helps to Pay College Expenses

CAMBRIDGE, MASS. — (ACP) — Reed B. Dawson of Mount Vernon, N. Y., is paying part of his college expenses by acting as a "fire-eater."

He is a junior at Harvard and his acts have made him a popular attraction at Boston parties. His specialty is setting fire to his hands and letting the flames creep up his arms.

"It really only tickles," he said, "though most people think you are burning to death. I do it all with chemicals."

Swallowing fire, he said, is just like breathing in warm air—if done properly.

Miss Dorothy Truex, assistant director of personnel for women, visited her parents, Reverend and Mrs. C. M. Truex of Liberty. Miss Dora B. Smith of the Education department also spent the holiday in Liberty with her parents.

Forty Students Are Enrolled in Civil Pilot Training

Three New Instructors Are Added to Ground School Faculty.

The spring training program of the Civilian Pilot Training course is under way at the Maryville airport. There are thirty students enrolled in the Primary Unit and ten in the Secondary.

Enrolled with Mr. Loyd Florence of Athens, Georgia, one of the youngest C. P. T. instructors in the country, are James Edward Cook, James Benedict Cummins, Edwin Daniel Emerson, Emerald Raleigh McKay, James Durwood Maxted, Anthony Joseph Rizzo, Jack Salmon, Norman Edgar, Schaeffer, Dave Marshall Tennant, Jr., Kenton Elliott Thompson.

David H. Wehman of Morristown, New Jersey, is instructing Raymond Lawrence Beedle, Rex Eugene Copeland, Robert Charles Davis, Eugene Melvin Ingram, Ralph Earl Moyer, Albert Franklin Owens, Verlin Forrest Powers, Leo Durwood Strohm, Dean Walker, and Dean Morrison Wiley.

Robert Alpert, James Daniel Carnean, Kinsell, Leroy Coulson, Robert William Darr, John Edmond Gottschalk, Leonard Boyd Watson, Robert Leroy Main, Charles Walter Morehouse, Hollis DeWitt Sisk, and Walter O. Killebrew are enrolled with Mr. B. L. Baldwin, a new instructor.

Virgil F. Webb, of Graymont, Georgia, has completed tests for advanced training instructor and has been enrolled with him, Clark Mack Dodd, Donald Louis Gex, Robert Emmett Kyle, Stanley Lyle Miller, Kenneth Allen Moore, Max Eugene Moore, Henry Horace Moyers, James Edward Phillips, Troy Carl Roberts, and Samuel Wayne Taylor, all in the Secondary unit.

New instructors have been added to the ground school faculty. In the Primary unit Dr. Carol Mason is teaching Meteorology; Dean J. W. Jones, Navigation; Mr. Sterling Surrey, Civil Air Regulations.

Courses in the ground school for the Secondary unit are being taught by Mr. Donald Valk, Air Craft Engines; Mr. Norvel Saylor, Aerodynamics; Mr. David White, Aerodynamics; Mr. Norvel Saylor, Aerodynamics.

Three graduates of the Secondary unit in Maryville, Paul Durst, Sidney Engelhardt, and Ernie Miller, have entered the naval Air Service at Pensacola, Florida. Tommy Prehlich, who completed the Primary course here is now an Army Flying Cadet.

The Maryville School of Aeronautics is planning to establish a student instructors' unit. Those who have completed both the Primary and Secondary units in the present set up will be eligible.

Seven Planes Used

The airport has two hangars, and seven planes are in use at present. Those used in the Primary are four Porterfields, 65 h. p. high-winged two-seat cabin monoplanes; and two "Aerona T. F.'s" 60 h. p. high-winged cabin monoplanes, also two-seaters. A Waco 220 h. p. bi-plane with a two-seat open cockpit is used in the Secondary unit and a Travel Air with a 125 h. p. Kinner engine, a two-seat bi-plane with open cockpit, is used for study.

Mr. Norvel Saylor, of the College faculty, who has contributed greatly to the success of the program received his own private pilot's license on February 23.

The C. P. T. course is offered twice during the school year and once during the summer session. To be eligible to apply for training one must be a regularly enrolled student at the College or have completed 2 years of college work. The basis for final selection of trainees will be upon physical examination, aptitude qualifications, and college credit hour minimums. Students taking the course will receive college credit for it. Upon completion of the course the trainee will be entitled to a private pilot's license.

The total cost of flight and ground school training, with the exception of accident insurance and the physical examination, is borne by the Civil Aeronautics Administration of the Federal Government.

Meteorite Detector May Find Submarines

COLUMBUS, OHIO — (ACP) — Possibility of locating "noiseless" submarines by a meteorite detector designed by Ohio State university educators is under investigation by Canadian and American sources.

The detector's importance increased following German claims of underwater craft with sound-proofed engines which would destroy the usefulness of standard hydrophones for locating submarines.

Designed and perfected by Prof. Lincoln La Paz, Ohio State mathematician, the detector has been used in the last two years to search for meteorites buried in the earth.

Y. W. Will have Slumber Party

The Y. W. C. A. is to have a Slumber party at the "Y" hut in College park Saturday night, April 19, from 8:00 p. m. until 8:00 a. m. Sunday morning, when a breakfast will be served. Miss Day Weems is to be one of the chaperones.

Speech Department Entertains Seniors

The Speech Department had an interesting display for Senior Day, other than its contribution at the afternoon assembly. At Room 119 visitors were shown novel model sets for plays that have been produced this year at the College.

The Acting Class presented two plays, readings of a skit entitled "Pickettes," for the Seniors. In addition, individual voice recordings were made and the recordings played back to amuse and to astonish the visitors.

Commercial Rating May Be Obtained at Local Flying School

Students in the flying classes at the Maryville School of Aeronautics soon may obtain "commercial" by continuing their instruction in the Civilian Pilot Training program until 200 hours have been completed.

The "commercial" is the rating which opens the door to airline employment or other important flying jobs in aviation. Pilots must have 200 or more hours of instruction and must pass rather strict examinations to achieve the commercial license.

Information that the CPT program course might be revised and extended to take students through "private" and "limited commercial" up to the highest rating was received here by Capt. Edward G. Schultz, operator of the Maryville school.

Robert H. Hinkleley, assistant secretary of commerce in whose department the Civil Aeronautics Administration is placed, told officials of the National Aviation Training association in a recent conference that the commercial license opportunity for CPT students was being studied.

The CPT service section in Washington was preparing a set of instructions. It was stated, linking present flight courses and adding other work, such as cross-country flying and advanced navigation. The revising was intended, Mr. Hinkleley said, to give a capable student every phase of training required for commercial licenses.

Many graduates of CPT courses now operated enroll in the air corps and receive instruction that qualifies them to hold the most important pilot jobs in commercial aviation. Those CPT students who do not or cannot enlist in the military, under the proposed CAA plan, will be able to prepare for flying careers under CPT instruction.

Young America Will Be Theme of Club Concert

The Dance Club, sponsored by Miss Day Weems, will present its Annual Concert on Friday, April 25. The concert will be given in the College Auditorium at 8:00 p. m.

The main theme of the concert is "Young America's Answer." It consists of a suite of dances expressing the five separate ideas of Imagination, Courage, Industry, Love of Freedom, and Respect for Individuality.

A surprise is in store for the audience with a number which is original with the Dance Club. It is entitled "Drug Store." This dance portrays typical American characters who may be seen in a drug store.

These characters include high school students, the woman on the telephone who doesn't want anything but keeps calling anyway, a business man who feels that he must convey the news to the attendants in spite of the fact that they already have six newspapers, and a slot machine addict. The music for "Drug Store" and the percussion effects were arranged by Miss Dorothy Steeby.

The program will be concluded with a patriotic song by the College Chorus.

The public is invited and no admission will be charged. Seats will be reserved for Dance Club members and parents of faculty members until 5 minutes before the concert.

Reporter Follows Seniors Over The College Campus

Senior day dawned cool and cloudy, but the threat of rain did not deter some 1,900 high school seniors from visiting the College campus. From all over Northwest Missouri they came. Several buses and automobile loads had arrived by 8:00 o'clock; by 10:00 o'clock the College parking lot was filled to overflowing and groups of Springfield seniors dotted the campus.

To follow a group on its tour of the buildings was both a pleasant and instructive trip. First to the power station and Industrial Arts building, then to the Library, Residence Hall, and soon around the campus, they went.

At the Industrial Arts display it was noticed that girls asked more questions than boys. A College man stationed at the display suggested that men did not wish to reveal their ignorance, hence their silence.

The girls' dormitory proved to be a pleasant surprise to many. Dorm, to them meant a large room where many people sleep. They marveled at the beautiful salon on the main floor of Residence Hall, at the attractive rooms and color schemes. They must have marvelled, too, at the sophisticated collegian who was unperturbably pressing a skirt while group after group stopped to gaze at her through the open doorway.

When asked what she liked best about the Dorm, Miss Hazel Gage of Stanberry High School answered, "The room decorations." But at 10:00 o'clock many who had eaten at 6:00 o'clock in the morning expressed a liking for the cafeteria and the odor of fresh steaming coffee.

Some of the earliest groups being ushered through the library remarked on the absence of books. Following this observation the staircases were included in the itinerary.

Horace Mann school attracted considerable comment. The Kindergarten especially brought forth some charming praises. "Isn't it darling!" or "I just love it," were expressions frequently used. Jack Lebeck, a Maryville High School senior, was rather angry at himself for having lived in Maryville and not having visited the Horace Mann Building before. It is to be wondered whether the room properties or the comely teachers were under surveillance when a group of boys blocked the corridor while gazing into a room.

The gymnasium and swimming pool proved to be the place of resistance for many of the boys. One group was overheard arguing about the depth of the water in the pool. The depth was clearly indicated by numerals at the side. Said one young man, "But that water is too clear to be that deep." The opposition gave up at this point.

Following lunch, varied activities summoned guests here and there. The West Library proved to be the most popular spot on the campus between 12:15 and 1:30 o'clock. Here the College dance band thrilled the seniors. It was noted that a number of Collegians retrogressed, for the duration of the dance at least.

The track meet attracted many. A drenching rain shrunk a great deal of Spring finery at the meet, but enthusiasm was still high as the visitors departed.

Art Class Exhibits Motifs and Designs

The work of the Fine Arts II class of the Winter Quarter has been placed in Exhibition Hall on fourth floor. Conventionalized unit designs worked up from plant and animal motifs have been carried through four stages and in color.

The exhibit includes cut paper and stencil designs, interior decoration plates, front and side view portraits, and figure sketching. Especially attractive is a wall paper design with a sail boat and gull motif worked out in blue. A watercolor surface design is also interesting.

Women of College Organize Branch of Bundles for Britain

Supplies Collected Are Going to Soldiers of British Army.

Marjorie Powell and Allen White have been elected president and secretary respectively of a Bundles for Britain branch which has been organized among women of the College and faculty wives. The knitted garments which are being made include, sweaters, scarves, and socks, and are to be sent to British soldiers.

Sorority members, Varsity Villagers, Residence Hall women, and the Faculty Dames are interested in the work. Yarn has already been given to about twenty volunteers, and all who have not yet received their yarn may get it from Marjorie Powell in Room 209, Residence Hall.

As an aid in raising funds to purchase needed emergency equipment for the people of Great Britain, the organization may sell buttons and stickers later.

The Maryville branch of the organization is one of 900 in the United States. Bundles for Britain Inc., was formed a year ago by Mrs. Wales Latham, New York society woman, to help the war-stricken people of Great Britain. Mrs. Winston Churchill, wife of Britain's prime minister, is its honorary sponsor.

There are units now in all forty-eight states and an average of twenty new branches enroll each week. The organization ships about 50,000 items of clothing knitted garments, surgical and medical supplies to Britain each month.

Reason for Alcohol Tolerance Is Sought

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, CAL. — (ACP) — Science still is unable to explain why some persons can drink heavily while others cannot, according to Dr. Henry Newman of the Stanford university faculty.

Experiments have been made at the university to prove or disprove every thesis that has been advanced on the subject. They were all found untrue.

"Many people," said Dr. Newman, "believe an habitual heavy drinker can 'take it' because alcohol passes more slowly into his blood stream. But experiments showed that the chronic drinker's blood absorbs alcohol more rapidly."

"Many believe that alcohol goes more slowly to the brain of the heavy drinker, but our workers here found it goes more rapidly."

"Others suggest that the habituated drinker remains sober because his body burns up the alcohol at a high rate of speed. But our experiments showed alcohol is burned up in both amateur and professional drinkers at exactly the same rate."

Dr. Newman holds that the only possible explanation is that the chronic drinker has acquired some mysterious "tolerance" to alcohol, a mechanism that permits him to absorb alcohol without showing its effects.

Alumnae Direct Play

Miss Frances Remus and Miss Mary Frances Lasell, now of the faculty at Maryville High School, are in charge of three one act plays which are to be given as the annual senior play at the high school. Miss Remus and Miss Lasell are former students of the College.

Marvin Gench, accompanied by Ruth Miliken, gave a musical program for the Maryville Lions Club at its luncheon meeting on Thursday preceding the holiday.

Bookstore Has Twenty Tubular Steel Chairs

Expressions of delight have been heard frequently this week from those who eat their lunches in the Bookstore. The source of the remarks is the new chairs which have been put into use.

The chairs are of tubular steel construction, chromium finished in the modern manner. They are comfortable and sturdy, as well as good-looking. They are all fitted with rubber stops to prevent slipping. There is no danger of snagging clothes on them.

Fitted as the bookstore now is with five tables, each with the new chairs to seat four people, it can accommodate the students and faculty who choose to eat lunches there. It is popular in the morning with the many students who prefer to eat breakfasts at the College, in mid-morning with students and faculty who like morning coffee or other refreshment, and in the afternoon with those who like an afternoon pick-up, whether it be tea, coffee, or soft drinks.

It is not at all unusual to find students busy at their books while they are eating. Conversation groups are frequently seeking the bookstore as a place for discussion. It seems that the bookstore is taking on somewhat the atmosphere of university coffee-shops.

The steel chairs which were formerly used in the Bookstore have been taken to the typing room to make all of the chairs there uniform.

Alumni Notes

Among alumni of the College who spent the Easter holiday in Maryville were the following: Miss Nellie Harrold, former teacher of physical education in the Maryville high school, who is now teaching in York, Nebraska; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dull of St. James, who visited Mrs. Dull's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McKee; Mrs. Guy Mercer of Columbia, formerly Miss Mary Lewis, who visited her sister, Mrs. Emory Almy; Miss Beatrice Lester, commerce instructor in the high school at Freeport, Illinois, who visited her parents, Wilbur Heekin of Rockford, Illinois, who visited his parents; Miss Virginia Mutz, instructor in the public schools of Carrollton, who visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mutz; Richard (Dick) Baker of St. Joseph and his sister Helen, now Mrs. Allen Burks of Kansas City, who visited their mother, Mrs. D. Fiscal Year for Resident Training Group Ends July 1 fiscal year of training for the boys enrolled in the Resident Training group. To date there has been no authoritative statement to the effect that this group will continue training here at Maryville for another year. However, the five weeks school course will be available to those who wish to continue in woodworking, metal-work, and drafting.

Boys Have Worthwhile Accomplishments to Their Credit.

Most of the 67 members belong to the beginning number of students since only a small percentage have dropped out. These boys work at various jobs for four hours a day and then devote four hours to classroom studies and vocational training.

Mr. Lon Wilson, who has been in charge of the Quad since last September, speaks highly in recommending the boys for their accomplishments. Some of their work compares favorably with that of professional craftsmen.

Beside their work on the campus grounds the boys have several other noteworthy achievements on the inside to their credit. Among these are the refinishing of tables in the Administration building, the construction of new drawing tables and a new exhaust system for the Industrial Arts Building, and repairs in Residence Hall. In addition members of the group wired the auditorium and the new Industrial Arts building. At present, they are repairing furniture at the Quad and building a new dormitory.

Since the government's purpose in starting this vocational training was to produce craftsmen for national defense, the careful observer will agree that these results indicate a definite step in that direction.

Staff Says Tower Which Has Gone to Press Is Different

Quite difficult conditions have attended the production of the 1941 Tower. To quote the Staff, "Every piece of bad luck possible has happened to us." The draft took some members away and others left school. The present staff has been working only since the beginning of the winter quarter. Those comprising the group have had to orient themselves in one-half the time the usual staff has.

The Tower staff expressed the belief that the student body will react very favorably to the publication. It also desired to express its appreciation to the numerous groups who so cheerfully cooperated in getting group pictures. All had to make concessions for which the Staff is indeed grateful.

According to the business manager, the date for distribution will be the latter part of May.

Senior Day Canvas Reveals Prospects Are Good for Team

Bearcat Material Will Come from Championship Teams of District.

A casual canvas of the campus on Senior Day revealed that prospects for Bearcat teams in the next year or two are encouraging. A number of championship teams were represented here, and while some of the boys have bids from other schools, a large number of them will be wearing the green and white, either in varsity sports or in intra-mural competition.

Twelve members of the Albany football team, which, incidentally, scored 353 points and held their opponents scoreless last season, are seniors, and at least two of them will be here next year. One is an all-conference line man.

Hatfield placed itself on the basketball map this year by developing a team that smothered teams from towns several times its size. Four members of the squad were here and at least two of them are considering going to school here next year.

Francis Stubbs, a last year's graduate, coached his Burlington Junction team to the championship of the West Nodaway County League in basketball this season. Two Burlington boys, Dick Wiseman and Jim Corbin, are planning to attend here next year. The Clearmont team, runner-up of the West County League, may contribute one member to Maryville next year.

The Stanberry team won a large percent of its games this year. The co-captains, Max Butts and E. Schollers, have not decided what schools they will attend next year, they said they still have Maryville in mind.

Rosendale, which seldom fails to produce a few good athletes each year, has 4 lettermen in its senior class, some of which may come here next year.

While your reporter got around to only a few of the many schools that were here, the ones that were interviewed represent a fair cross section of schools in this district. The general indication is for more and better sports here in the future.

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.—(ACP)—A voluntary ski patrol is being formed at Colorado college and leaders of the campus movement have chosen as a testing ground the snow-covered slopes of 14,100-foot Pikes peak.

Capt. Thomas H. Rawles of the field artillery reserve is in charge. The ski-run, half-way up the lofty peak, will be used for practice work and tactical and camping problems will be worked out in the surrounding foothills.

"The ski patrol, as far as we know, will be the only one of its kind among military units in colleges and universities in the U. S.," Capt. Rawles said.

Vocational Schools to Enroll Record Number

Record Training of 3,000,000 in Nation's Vocational Schools
Reports from all States received by the U. S. Office of Education show that regular and defense vocational school training is ahead of its scheduled program planned last year to train 700,000 workers for defense industries by June 30, 1941.

A report to Paul V. McNutt, Federal Security Administrator, from John W. Studebaker, U. S. Commissioner of Education, indicates that if present trends continue about 1,000,000 persons will have been trained for defense occupations by June 30, 1941. During the first 6 months ending January 1, 1941, records show 325,000 trained or in training in the rapidly expanding vocational education program.

More than 800 of the 900 cities with vocational trade and industrial schools are making their facilities available for defense training. More than 300 cities have put their vocational schools on 24-hour, 6-day week schedules.

Trade and industrial education alone enrolls more than 750,000 including hundreds of apprentices who attend part time. Youth in these courses receive basic and related training in such defense-vital skills as pattern-making, welding, sheet metal, drafting, machine shop, electricity, and auto mechanics.

The total number that will be served by various vocational education courses during the coming year will be in excess of 3,000,000.

Serve Various Needs
Vocational schools, Commissioner Studebaker reported, are serving more varieties of needs than ever before in their 23-year history. These include: Pre-employment refresher short courses to prepare workers selected from public employment office rolls for defense industry occupations; refresher courses for WPA workers with previous industrial training or experience to fit them for defense industry occupations; supplementary courses largely in the early evening for defense workers already employed but in need of additional training; regular day school instruction to youth preparing for skilled trades; part-time related training for apprentices; training for youth on NYA work projects; extension training for workers in occupations other than defense occupations.

Training for out-of-school farm and town youth in introductory trade and industrial courses; short course training of Army personnel in auto mechanics, cookery, clerical and other occupations; regular agricultural education; regular home economics education; and business education stressing training for distributive occupations.

"In this far-reaching program millions of people in thousands of local communities of every State are working with heightened morale because they are actual participants in a great national effort," points out Commissioner Studebaker. "They are making large financial contributions also."

State governments have spent more than a billion dollars in providing the buildings and equipment in which the training is given. For the regular vocational education program the Federal Government through grants-in-aid has supplied some funds for teachers' salaries and supervision, but for these purposes the States and local communities annually match the Federal grants with about two dollars for every dollar contributed by the central government. Patriotic American citizens in general in putting both school buildings and personnel at the service of the nation.

"Twenty-three years of cooperation by the Federal, State and local forces for vocational training have yielded real preparedness. In 1917-18 the newly-sponsored vocational education system could train only 60,000 workers for war industries in 18 months. During the current year 23-year-old vocational education will train more than 1,000,000 in addition to the graduates of its regular courses."

"National attention has been focused in the past few months chiefly upon the emergency vocational education program to train workers needed by defense industries," said Commissioner Studebaker. "We must realize, however, that this program supplements a regular program that is contributing without interruption to prepare for work in industry, business, the home, and on the farm."

Josephine Ager, who teaches in the New Hampton high school, spent the Easter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ager, in Maryville. Miss Ager, a graduate of the College in 1938, has been re-employed for the coming year at New Hampton.

Women Prefer Military Training; Men Do Not

ATHENS, GA.—(ACP)—University of Georgia co-eds think "there's something about a soldier" and accordingly 60 per cent voted that male students be required to take four years of compulsory military training.

The men, however, don't take to the idea with the zest of the females. Only 40 per cent voted for the proposal.

Students Play Too Much

Joe College and Betty Co-ed spend more time playing than doing anything else except sleeping. A mid-western survey shows the average college student spends 41.1 hours a week in leisure pursuits. The greatest amount of this time is occupied by relatively aimless loafing, bull sessions, radio listening, drinking and driving. Organized student activities are scarcely a threat to academic interest, involving only 30 per cent of the student body and only 3.5 per cent of the total leisure time.
